

2011 FUNDING FLOWS TO TOP HUMANITARIAN RECIPIENTS

Humanitarian financing does not exist in a vacuum. It is just one element of support to a country in crisis. This image demonstrates how the flow of humanitarian financing can be dwarfed by others in volume and significance.

Note: Due to limited data, the visual represents just 15 of the top 20 recipients of international humanitarian assistance between 2002 and 2011. This includes Afghanistan, Angola, Burundi, Ethiopia, Haiti, Indonesia, Iraq, Jordan, Kenya, Lebanon, Myanmar, Pakistan, Sudan, Sri Lanka and Uganda
